ACTION AGAINST HATE

ABOUT US

The Action Against Hate campaign was created by the Asian Roundtable of Colorado (ARC) to implement ways to empower the AAPI community, through meaningful discourse and innovative solutions, to support the most vulnerable among us. In the past year, rising numbers of anti-Asian violence have spurred community action. Action Against Hate found a gap in services for those with language and cultural barriers, economics, access, and other inequities. By working with community leaders and existing organizations, we are focused on assisting cultural and language specific communities to develop appropriate infrastructure, help build resilience to strengthen their welfare, and stand-up against Anti-Asian hate attacks.

CRIME AND THE LAW TRAINING

The Action Against Hate Crime and the Law Training is an educational program tailored to combat hate crimes, with a specific focus on Colorado Revised Statute. It educates participants on identifying hate crimes, clearly distinguishing them from other criminal offenses. The training emphasizes the Colorado legal framework regarding hate crimes, detailing the reporting process to ensure effective and timely communication with appropriate local authorities.

In addition, the program highlights the importance of supporting victims, offering resources such as counseling and legal assistance. It covers strategies for preventing hate crimes, involving community efforts, and promotes educational outreach. The program's primary objective is to elevate awareness and impart essential skills and knowledge for effectively addressing and preventing hate crimes.

C.R.S WORKSHEET

Instructions: In this worksheet, you'll research sections of the Colorado Revised Statutes (CRS). Each statute is linked to an illustration on your worksheet. Find each statute online and write its main points in the space provided next to its corresponding illustration.

To access the Colorado Revised Statutes (CRS) for your exercise, you can visit the Colorado General Assembly's website at <https://leg.colorado.gov/colorado-revised-statutes>. This site hosts the codified general and permanent statutes of the Colorado General Assembly and is a reliable source for up-to-date legal information.

Additionally, the CRS is available online through LexisNexis, offering a search feature that allows you to search by keyword or by citation. You can access it directly via www.lexisnexis.com. This resource is particularly useful for finding specific statutes, as you can navigate through the statutes like a book using the "next" button.

Both of these resources provide comprehensive access to the statutes, making them ideal for your exercise in researching and summarizing the Colorado Revised Statutes.

Individual: As an individual, your task is to independently complete the worksheet. Research each statute using the provided number, understand its content, and then summarize or quote the relevant parts next to the corresponding illustration.

Group: In a group, divide the worksheet among team members, with each person responsible for specific statutes. After individual research, come together to discuss and share insights.

WORKSHOP EXERCISE

Instruction: Reflect on and write a brief plan about how you can contribute to combating hate in your daily life. Think about actions such as promoting kindness, standing against discrimination, or spreading awareness in your surroundings. Focus on practical steps you can take and how you plan to implement them.

- For Individual Participants: Write down your plan and, if you're comfortable, share it on social media to inspire others. This can help spread awareness and encourage more people to take action.
- For Group Training Participants: After you've written your plan, participate in a group discussion led by your facilitator. This will allow everyone to share ideas, offer feedback, and collectively enhance your strategies to combat hate.
